PROTESTS IN KENTUCKY AGAINST YIELDING THE GOVERNORSHIP.

The Entire Day Spent in Conferences Stronger Assurances From Democrats Desired - The Republican Legislators Call on Gov. Taylor Not to Yield.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 7.-It has been a day of pulling and hauling and anxiety here. Gov. Taylor has been momentarily expected to make up his mind and announce his decision regarding the peace treaty, signed by the Republicans and the Democrats at Louisville, but up to 8 o'clock to-night not a word has come from him.

The Democrats assert that upon his answer hangs the question of peace or bloodshed. On the other hand the rank and file of the Republicans say that to accept the so-called Louisville treaty would be an inexcusable act of cowardice.

The Louisville Commercial, one of the chief organs of the Republicans in the State, says editorially to-day:

"Gov. Taylor may be compelled by the force of circumstances which he cannot immediately control, in deference to the spirit of utlitarianism that is sapping the vitals of American manhood and destroying the foundations of republican patriotism, by reason of sheer surrender to the Ku Klux mob now headed by Jo Blackburn and Henry Watterson. to sign the agreement prepared for him and urged upon him by the parties to a political conference held in this city on Monday night. He may deem it his duty, in or der that the country may be spared the spectacle of a few broken heads among the pack of gamblers and cut-throats and revolutionists by whom William Goebel had surrounded himself at Frankfort and which still remain there to prosecute his infamous scheme of usurpation and menace the public peace, to look on without further protest while government by the people is slaughtered as a sacrifice to partisan greed. He may be so confounded by the lawvers, who know how to distort the law in such a way that its deflance may be made to appear an act of spotless virtue, as to sign the death warrant of civil liberty in Kentucky and let the red flag of revolution wave in triumph over the capitol in which he now sits by authority of the people

But it will be a sorry day for Kentucky when peace is purchased at such a price as is offered by the so-called "conference report" which has now been offered to Gov. Taylor for his consideration. For whatever may be the expediency of his ratification of this remarkable document, nothing can obscure the fact that it merely recites the terms of a surrender. He has no right to surrender the office of Governor until he has been legally dispossessed of it. He has no right to hold that office for a single hour after having been so dispossessed of it, even by the grace of Jo Blackburn and Eph Lillard. He has no right to 'trade' the great trust confided by the people for the so-called 'immunity' from the consequences of any of his public acts. He has no right to deliver the Governorship over to J. C. Beckhamas the price to be paid for Democratic votes for the repeal of any statute, however infamous. He has no right to seour the tarnished title of JolBlackburn to a United States Senatorship for the sake of peace at the sacrifice of honor.

"If Gov. Taylor must surrender the great office to which the people elected him, let the revolutionists, not the Republicans, force him out. Let it be understood that he goes downbe fore the Goebel Ku Klux, not by private agreement to the burial of the Republican party in Kentacky beyond hope of resurrection. Let us not wait for some future demonstration of the might and majesty of the people, but let us find out now whether the Constitution of our Commonwealth is a thing to be obeyed by Republicans and to be spit upon by Democrats, or whether it is a charter of Government under which all have rights and to which we all owe unfalling obecience."

It is comment such as this from Republican

It is believed by Gov. Taylor's friends that the situation would be much simplified if the article of the Louisville agreement relating to the repeal of the Goebel election law were stronger. The agreement pledges a revision of the law. Gov. Taylor feels, it is said, that if he could bring about the absolute repeal of that law and the substitution of a law that would gnarantee a fair election in the future it would be a substantial gain for the Republicans, and it would this time be worth giving up the offices to get the result. There is talk to-night of a postponement of action on the agreement until another conference is held and it is said that there may be another conference on Friday night in Louisville.

Senator Goebel's body got back here from Covington to-day, and is lying in state in the ladies' parlor in the Capitol Hotel. The hotel and the other hotels in the city have fliled up again with people, and the talk in the crowds is getting to be more like that which was heard immediately after the shooting of Senator Goebel. Men are saying that they would not give two cents for the life of Gov. Taylor, no matter how the controversy over the Governorship is settled. He is spoken of as a marked man, as are other persons who have been friendly to him.

ship is settled. He is spoken of as a marked man, as are other persons who have been friendly to him.

It was raining dismally when the special train which brought Senator Goebel's body from Covington arrived at half-past 12 o'clock. There was a big crowd at the station that fell in behind the hearse and marched up the muddy streets to the hotel. Hundreds of dollars worth of floral offerings had already been received at the hotel, and the ladies' parlor seemed a solid mass of flowers, with just a line through the centre of it. The casket was placed on one side of this line and the crowd was formed in line and for several hours the people passed through the room and had an opportunity to look at the body. After they had done that they gathered outside and discussed the assassination and the chance of hanging the men who were responsible for it. Great preparations are being made for the funeral to-morrow. Special trains will be run from all parts of the State and it is expected that there will be more people here than have ever been in the town at one time before. In anticipation of this crowd and knowing its temper Adjt.-Gen. Collier has ordered all the soldiers to stay inside the Capitol Square grounds. The sight of them on the street, he thinks, would have a tendency to anger the people who were friends of Goebel and he will take no chances of a clash.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 7.—An immense crowd watched the transfer of the body of the late Senator Goebel from the Covington Old Fellows' Temple to the Chesapeake and Ohio special train at 8 o'clock this morning. The casket was still half buried by the floral tributes. Several members of the Democratic Legislature accompanied the remains to Covington officials and citizens marched behind the learse to the station. The casket was placed on the same car on which the remains were brought from the capital.

Louisville, Kv., Feb. 7.—The new election law which now seems a probability is to be drafted by two able and well-known lawyers, ex-Judge A. P. Humphrey of this city and ex-Justice of the Court of Appeals, W. S. Pryor of Frankfort. This was agreed upon at the conference held on Monday night. Each party was allowed to name a lawyer. The Democrats presented Judge Pryor. The Republicans selected Judge Pryor. The Republicans selected Judge Humphrey, Judge Humphrey is a gold Democrat and a man of very high standing. Judge Pryor is a Free Silver Democrat, but general confidence is felt in him as well as in Humphrey. They will draw up the law together and it is cipulated that it is to contain no provision not acceptable to both. Among other provisions, there is to be one to prevent the police interfering at the polic. The election will be entirely in the hands of election offleers and every effort will be made to have it a perfectly non-partisan measure. The Bepublicans are very anxious to have the law and the Democrats are quite as willing, because the Goebel law was very unpopular. It is said here that there will be no trouble to get it through the

"Make no compromise of our rights under the Constitution and the law. We represent the people of this Commonwealth for a free election and a fair count. Any attempt on the part of any man or any set of men, to set aside the result of the last election by force, fraud or vicious legislation, or compromise without the consent of the people is treason. We, therefore, pledge you our support and lives if you will but stand by the election returns as counted by the Electoral Commission."

Up to a late hour to-night no answer had been received to this message and many Legislators fear that Gov. Taylor will sign an agreement to-night. Representative Slack, who is the leader of the Republicans in the House, said to-night:

ment to-night. Representative Slack, who is the leader of the Republicans in the House, said to-night.

"I don't think there is any occasion for alarm on the part of the Republicans here. I am satisfied Gov. Taylor will sign no agreement which will compromise us, or himself, or the people. He will not sign any agreement on what the Democratic attorneys say. If any agreement is signed, every Democratic member of the Legislature will have to sign an agreement to vote for the repeal of the Goebel Election law and the enactment of a fair law to govern elections in Kentucky. We will take nothing for granted. He must have the signatures of the Democratic members to such an agreement.

"In my opinion, the repeal of the Goebel Election law is of more vital importance than who holds the offices. With that law in force it makes no difference whether the Republicans win by 200,000 or 1,000—the result is the same. The Democratis get the officers and get them under the forms of law. It is just as the opponents of the law claimed when the bill was on its passage. They said the people would have no choice in the matter of electing the official, that it would be just as well to have only one commissioner and allow him to cast the entire vote of the State. If by Taylor making some concessions the Goebel law can be repealed there are many who believe he ought to make them."

LOUISVILLE & NASHVILLE TO MOVE A Story That its Offices and Shops Will Be Taken Out of Kentucky. LOUISVILLE, K. Y., Feb. 7. - The Evening Post, a strong anti-Goebel newspaper, this afternoon published a report that several Democratic politicians were furthering a movement to have the Franklin county Grand Jury return indictments against President Milton H. Smith f the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Gen. Basil W. Duke, an attorney for the road: John H. Whallen, said to be the road's political agent, and Gov. W. S. Taylor. This rumor was followed up by another that the general offices of the Louisville and Nashville would be moved to St. Louis and the shops to Nashville. The offices, according to rumor, would be moved about May 1, but the shops could not be moved

Nothing could be learned at the offices of the railroad regarding these matters. Little credence is placed in them. On the other hand, it is said that no attempt will be made to punish the road for the part it took in the election and that there will be no attempt to increase rail-road taxation. The reports are published in order to attract attention to the possibility of a which all have rights and to which we all owe unfailing obedience."

It is comment such as this from Republican newspapers, backed up as it is by numerous telegrams and letters from Republicans, that is causing the Governor to halt and to consider whether he would not be justified in accepting what the Democrats say is the alternative. The Governor has been in conference in his private office at the State House all day. He has with him a number of the men who attended the conference, where the peace trenty was figured, and he has had all of his legal advisers with him. A this writing he is still with them. No one, except the lawyers, has had access to him, and his guards have even refused admission to the antercom to other persons known to be friendly to him who have called.

WHAT GOV. ROOSEVELT TOLD NA-TIONAL COMMITTREMAN KERENS.

Him to Go on the Ticket With McKinley
-The Convention May Put It so That He Cannot Refuse as Arthur Could Not. Gov. Roosevelt returned to Albany yesterday norning and the Hon. Richard C. Kerens, Republican National Committeeman for Missouri, remained at the Waldorf-Astoria. THE Sun spoke yesterday morning of the interview the night before between Gov. Roosevelt and Mr. Kerens. Gov. Roosevelt was here to attend the dinner of Group VIII. of the Bankers' Association. Mr. Kerens had come from Washington and Philadelphia to discuss with Gov. Roosevelt the proposition to make Mr. Roosevelt the candidate for Vice-President. THE SUN said yesterday that the outcome of firm in the belief that he preferred to remain n his present place. The fact that the Republican National Committee, through its chief representatives. Mr. Hanna, Henry C. Payne of Wisconsin and Mr. Kerens, had demonstrated an interest in Gov. Roosevelt's immediate future from a national standpoint has been regarded as one of the most interesting political symptoms of the present day. Contrary to Republican-Democratic outgivings at Albany (there is a strong mixture of such sentiment in the City of Hills), the fact remains that the most eminent members of the Republican National Committee, backed by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and other lights in the Republican party. desire that Gov. Rooseveit shall become the running mate on the next Presidential ticket with President McKinley. This matter will be settled at the proper ime. There is no harm, though, in quoting a few words from Mr. Kerens. He said last night at the Waldorf-Astoria.

"I had a very charming talk with Gov. Roosevelt, and without speaking for myself, I told him that very many Republicans interested in the National Administration desired that he should become the Vice-Presidential candidate at the Philadelphian National Convention. The conversation was held in the presence of a number of other gentlemen. In what I said to Gov. Roosevelt I merely stated a fact, and I also said that Senator Lodge desired that Gov. Roosevelt should accept the Vice-Presidential nomination. There should be no secret about these matters, because they concern the welfare of the American people. Gov. Roosevelt in his fine, manly way told me that he preferred, if possible, to be renominated as Governor of the State of New York. The Govout for him and, furthermore, he preferred the place of Governor of the State of New York just at present to the Vice-Presidential nomination. The gentlemen who surrounded us during the conversation applauded the sentiments of Gov.

Roosevelt." Mr. Kerens was just as frank as Gov. Roosevelt. It may be that the Republicans in the National Convention will demand the nominatle of Gov. Roosevelt for Vice-President, and that he will be no more able to refuse than Chester A. Arthur was in the Republican National Convention of 1880.

STAMFORD'S SEWER OUTLET.

A Temporary Injunction Secured Against the City Nine Years Ago Made Permanent. STAMFORD, Conn., Feb. 7 .- After litigation in the courts for nine years, a temporary injunction restraining the city of Stamford from discharging sewage into the canal was made permanent yesterday by Judge Shumway of the Superior Court. The decision is important. One branch of Stamford harbor is known as the canal. Before the present sewer system outlet was determined upon sewage flowed into the canal. Charles H. Getman, who has since died, secured a temporary injunction enjoining the city to desist in this action. A few weeks ago much surprise was shown when W. H. Judd, representing the estate of C. H. Getman, made application for the injunction to be made Permanent.

This action was taken in view of the proposition now well under way to extend the sewer to the west side of the city. This part is thickly populated with the poorer classes. It was purposed to have the outlet in Stamford harbor at a place opposite but some distance was purposed to have the outlet in Stamford harbor at a place opposite but some distance away from the Stamford Yacht Club house. The club made an organized effort in opposition to the outlet. A point made by the appellants in their petition was that sewage would pollute the waters of the harbor and hence be a damage to contiguous property. In his memorandum making the injunction permanent Judge Shumway says:

"The allegations of the complaint are found true. It is also found that at the present time there is no necessity for the defendant to discharge sewage into the canal except in case of accident to the pumping machinery or pipes used in connection with the system of sewage disposal. The plaintiff cannot be adequately protected if the city is permitted to use the canal as it intends to use it. The defendant should be enjoined from polinting the water of the canal."

ALL FOR THE DISINHERITED BOY. W. B. Peirson, Cut Off by His Father With $100, Gets His Mother's Estate.

William G. Peirson, a cement pipe manufacturer, died in Brooklyn in September, 1896. In his will be cut off his son, William B. Peirson, with only $100, on the ground that he had been undutiful in many ways. The rest of the estate was left to the widow, Edward E. Peirson, another son, and a grandson, William L. Petrson. Mrs. Petra grandson, William L. Peirson. Mrs. Peirson, the widow, died shortly after her husband and she left all her estate to the disinherited son. The executors of Mr. Peirson's estate contended that Mrs. Peirson's will was not valid, as the division of her husband's estate was not to be made until after his father's death, and that this occurred after her death. Justice Bartlett, who wrote the opinion, decides in favor of the disinherited son, saying that the intention of the testator in the first will was to provide for his wife, his son Edward E., and his grandson, William L. Peirson, and that the postponement of the division of the estate until after the death of the 'estator's father was simply a means of insuring to the father the income provided for in the will.

DOYLE HAD NO REVOLVER ?

Counsel Says He Did Not Fire the Shot Which Killed Carey. Ridgway, counsel for the accused, in his opening address to the jury accused, in his opening address to the jury contended that Doyle did not fire the fatal shot for the reason that he did not possess a revolver and that Police Inspector Thompson had saverely criticised him for not having one. "The shooting was done by a man who ran through the saloon," said Mr. Ridgway, "and that man was not Doyle. Jacob Miller was directly behind Carey when the latter was shot. This man is an ex-convict and I will prove to you that he salways carried a revolver and that Hulst who was in the same party, had a revolver and a slung shot."

The case will go on to-day.

Appellate Division Decides Against Secretary of Board of Education.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn handed down a decision yesterday reversing an order, continuing an injunction obtained by Archibald Emerson Palmer, Secretary of the Board of Education, restraining the board from removing him from office, on the ground of politics and illegal methods. CHRISTIAN UNITY IN BRONX.

Thirty-five Pastors Sign a Doctrinal Statement That Will Be Spread Broadcast.

Thirty-five Bronx borough pastors have signed a doctrinal statement which is to be distributed broadcast to prove practical Christian unity. Only one Baptist and one Lutheran, the Rev. Alvah E. Knapp of the Tremont Church, and the Rev. J. F. W. Kitzmeyer of Bethany Church, respectively, have signed. but Episcopal, Congregational, Methodist, Presbyterian and Reformed Church pastors are nearly all in the movement. Of fifty who were asked to sign, only four have declined. the balance not having been heard from.

In the statement's preamble the clause ap pears that these pastors act for themselves only, but any intent to set up a new creed is disclaimed. In different form, the statement sets forth the Apostles' Creed, and adds the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's Supper as of Christ's ordering, the Bible as the inthe interview was that Gov. Roosevelt was still spired Word of God, and then says this about the Church: "The Church is the holy society of believers

Speaking yesterday of the undertaking, the Rev. James Hunter of the Belmont Reformed Church said: "There are 195,000 people in Bronx borough. Adherents of Roman Catholic churches number, at a liberal estimate, 55,000. There are 140,000 left who are either Protestant or of no church at all. The section is not everchurched, you see. The aim of our local lederation, as I understand it, is to make a united and aggressive movement toward the non-church people. The first step is to hold on Thursday evening, Feb. 15, a public mass meeting in the Willis Avenue Methodist Church. The purpose of this meeting is to see how strong we really are; how many of us are actively interested. Our next step is to issue a directory of all places of religious worship in Bronx borough, Roman and Protestant, and by making different church organizations responsible for different districts, to place this directory in every home, to tell the occupants of the same where the churches are, their hours of service, to show to them that they are in substantial agreement, and that they want people to attend them and receive spiritual benefits of them."

FRIENDS OF THE CANALS MEET.

State Commerce Convention's Committee Comes to Town to Begin Its Campaign. The committee appointed at the State Com-

The committee consists of forty-five members who are either mayors of cities, presilents of villages or chairmen of local boards of improvement. Twenty-six of these were present yesterday, including John D. Kiernan of Utica, who presided. A letter was read from Gov. Roosevelt in which he said that the success of the plan for the improvement of the canals depended upon the amount of intelli-gent outside support it got and thanked the committee for the steps it was taking in the matter.

Gen, Francis V, Greene, Chairman of Gov. Roosevelt's Special Canal Committee, said that the way the people would vote on the question of canal improvement depended upon the sentiment aroused by commercial organizations. J. H. Herbert pointed to the troubles of the Brooklyn Wharf and Warehouse Company as proof of the need of cheap canal transportation. Twenty-five years ago, he said, the warehouses and wharves could not meet the demand for accommodations, while to-day the business didn't pay expenses.

PREFERS DRINKING TO FARMING. Wiegand Shied at an Agricultural Liquor Cure, His Wife Says.

A man and a woman, middle-aged and well dressed, were arrested while quarrelling at Third avenue and Forty-third street at 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The man said he was Gustavus W. Wiegand, and that the woman was his wife. In the Yorkville police ourt Magistrate Meade recognized them as having been before him two years ago.

"You are the man who claims to be a friend of the Prince of Wales, are you not?" he asked "I might have said so when I was excited," epiled the prisoner.

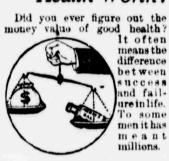

I might have said so when I was excited," replied the prisoner.

The woman explained that she had been drinking brandy because she was annoyed by her husband's conduct. "He cannot control his appetite for intoxicating drinks," she said. "I have started him in business several times in the hope of reforming him, but each time it was a failure. I bought a farm for him down at Patchogue, L. L. yesterday and placed most of my furniture in storage, in the hope that farm life would cure him, but he declined to be a farmer and went out and got drunk."

Mrs. Wiegand said she was a native of Scotland and had a considerable fortune when she married Wiegand, whom she met in Berlin. Now most of her money was gone, owing to her husband's expensive habits. The Magistrate remarked that the couple had suffered enough and discharged them.

STUDENTS TURN KIDNAPPERS. Class War Caused by New York University's

Sophomore Dinner. The class of 1902 of the New York University gave its second annual banquet at the Mariincidents were connected with it. The committee in charge kept the matter a secret until early in the afternoon, when a number of members of the class took it into their heads to capture some of the freshmen and bring them to the banquet. They were able to kidnap two men before the freshmen became aware of what was on foot. When they discovered how they had been duped the rage of the "freshies" knew no bounds and they immediately set out to retaliate.

Lane, Clements, Wilcox, Young and others of the class of 1003 volunteered as a party of rescue and they immediately set out in pursuit of the sophomores who held their class mates captives. Over fences and across lots at University Heights the chase led, until at last the two factions met. Then there was a battle royal, One man was rendered unconscious, A score of the others were bruised about the face and body. Turdy escaped from the sophomores, the men who had been left on the gampus had.

There they learned that the freshmen who had been left on the campus had succeeded in capturing Marshall Wood, 1902. They had securely bound him and left him under a guard in Gould Hall, and they gathered in others as the afternoon wore on.

In the evening the freshmen were in control of the Heights and had fun at the expense of their captives. Down in the city the sophomores banqueted in peace and quiet, managing on their part to get a good deal of entertainment ont of the freshmen who had fallen into their hands.

FLAGS AT HALF-MAST FOR M'CARTNEY His Chair Draped With Black-Talk About

His Successor. Mayor Van Wyck ordered the City Hall flag hoisted at half-mast yesterday out of respect to the memory of Street Cleaning Commissioner McCartney, who died on Tuesday night. DEMAND FOR A DOUBLE PENSION.

Retired Policeman Served in the Old Brooklyn Force and Then as a Park Cop. Hubert Oberly, a retired policeman, is suing the Police Commissioners to compel them to pay him two pensions. In 1886 he was retired from the Brooklyn police force on a pension of $500 after twenty years' service. He joined the Park force and remained a Park policeman till Brooklyn became a part of New York. Two years ago the Police Board declined to give him pay and pension too, and he dropped the him pay and pension too, and he dropped the pension. Then he was retired on a pension of $700. Now he appeals to the courts to give him the pension which he says he was coerced into giving up two years ago. Two similar cases are pending.

DON'T EXPERIMENT! TAKE THE SUREST CURE!

Dr. Greene's Nervura Blood and Nerve Remedy.

Now is the Time You Are Most Out of Order. Now is the Time You Need it Most.

When you dose your poor nerves with dangerous drags and opiates, when you overwork them or abuse them, then you are like the man in the picture—you are spurring them into the great vortex from whence there is no return. They know better than you. They are trying to warn you by dulness, exhaustion, tired feelings, dyspepsia, melancholia, despondency, etc., that they need aid. They are cry-ing for Dr. Greene's Nervura, the remedy which Nature planted in the earth solely for the purpose of recuperating the weakened, over-worked nerves and impure blood.

It will bring back to you the power and vigor of health. It will revitalize and carried. will revitalize and enrich your whole body. It will fill your nerves and veins with the fire and vigor of youth, and make a regal man or woman of you again. It is a veritable Fountain of Youth and of Strength - thousands will tes-tify to this. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. FLORENCE TAYLOR, of 4 Courtland Place, Bridgert, Conn., says:--"For four years I was troubled with nervous debility and hysteria in a most aggravated form. It caused alexplessness and mental depression, and at one time I feared blood potsoning. For months I was confined to my bed. My constitution wasted, and I totally lost my appetite. I was advised to rry by. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I was in a territole condition when I began its use, and almost immediately there was a wonderful change came over me. I regained my appetite, the dizziness in my head departed, it remewed my interest in life and made me feel, in fact, like another person. I thank fully proclaim myself strong and we'l.

Dr. Greene's Nervura did for me what hundreds of dollars and numerous physicians failed to do. I cannot do credit to its merits. Truly, Dr. Greene's Nervura should be lauded to the skies. I advise everybody to take it if they want to feel well." Dr. Greene, 35 West 14th St., New York City, is the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He has remedies for all forms of disease, and offers to give free consultation and advice, personally or by letter. You can tell or write your troubles to Dr. Greene, tell all communications are confide Lial, and letters are answered in plain, scaled envelopes.
